

Document Holders for Panels and Cabinets

These convenient, economical document holders are generally applied to the inside of a cabinet door or in the immediate vicinity, and are designed to keep at hand the manuals, diagrams, and other information needed when working, testing, or doing maintenance of the apparatus.

Made of black or orange (upon special request) sturdy polyamide, with adhesive tape for installation (can be drilled for mounting with screws or rivets), these holders are very light, and the quality adhesive is designed to maintain the holder in place even when filled with documents. The windows on the front allow for visibility of the contents of the holder.

The surface where the document holder is to be applied must be thoroughly cleaned with alcohol before applying the adhesive strips.
